OPEN LINES

AB: "Because if there are ghosts and if they are the departed, that obviously proves that there is something beyond this life. It's not a trivial discovery."

Aud: "We had it on the show before about dangers of, ah, Quija boards ... and ..."

AB: "Oh, yes ..."

Aud: "I think it's dangerous when people open up themselves to unknown forces. You don't know what's out there!"

AB: "That's right."

Aud: Believes UFOs and Poltergeists are the same phenomenon.

AB: "Why would a disembodied person need a vehicle to ride in?"

Aud: Denies poltergeists are disembodied ... "could be anything really."

AB: "All right, then what is a poltergeist?"

Aud: "That's a good question ... something supernatural ... I don't know."

AB: "Poltergeists may be souls that have not yet been released ..."

Equating UFOs and poltergeists is "too simple a conclusion" ... "but you know, we are dealing with opinions here."

Aud: Is a ghost or a shadow person an imprint of energy or an actual consciousness?

AB: The answer would appear to be both.

Aud: That's exactly what I have come to believe. "I think that shadow people might be an extension of that first category of an energy imprint." Like the negative image on a photograph.

AB: Hold on, wait a minute. Too many people have called me: "When confronted by a shadow person, two things happen – One, they appear startled, and Two, they take off like a bat outta hell."

Aud: "Oh, well that changes everything then."

AB: "Yeah, it would seem to." ...

Aud: "These shadow people seem to scare people moreso than any other spectre or paranormal experience."

AB: "Well, and there are so many of them. One has to wonder what percentage of us might become shadow people?" To recognize and then to flee requires some sort of consciousness. "It says a lot."

2002 05 24 Friday No Guest Open Lines – Prediction for the Next Six Weeks and Monster Stories

Aud: "One of my friends was spiritually raped last year ... one of my close friends. And, um, I guess for a while she's in contact with spirits. And, um, I guess she was in contact with ... with whom she believes to be Napoleon ... for about six (6) months (!) And I guess a good contact and then it became more like a, um, a poltergeist type of thing. Like it was more like a haunting."

AB: "So this was like ... you're telling me this was like an ongoing ... ongoing relationship with Napoleon? (!)"

Aud: "Right."

AB: "Now, you've got to admit that sounds pretty wild!"

Aud: "It ... it sounds very wild, but I ... she's had contact with spirits I guess, for several years now, so I guess the only thing I could do is to take her word on it."

AB: "She is not ... is not carrying Napoleon's child is she? I mean, that would be news for the world ..."

Aud: "No."

AB: "No, huh?"

Aud: "No. I don't think so. But ..."

AB: "Did you believe her?"

Aud: "It ... it was a little hard to hear at first, but I think eventually it just became such a factor in her life, she couldn't focus on her schoolwork. She couldn't focus really on anything, because this was bothering her so much."

AB: "Hmpf, that's incredible!

Well, um, see if you can get her to call me."

Aud: "Okay!"

AB: "Would 'chu do that?"

Aud: "Sure!"

AB: "All right. I'd very much appreciate it. Thank you."

Aud: "Okay."

AB: "That's one for the books (!)

There are ... you know, in the psychiatric world, there are Napoleon complexes, but, ah ... ah, this would be the first intimate ongoing relationship with Napoleon that I'm ... I'm aware of being reported."

Aud: "I have a question about EVPs."

AB: "E-V-P, that's Electronic Voice Phenomena."

Aud: "Correct."

Um, the, ah, these voices ... when the two (2) researchers was on your show, one thing they didn't answer, um, is: 'Do they hear those voices live or not until they review the tape?'

AB: "It's a very worthy, ah, question, and the answer is they don't hear them until they review the tape.

However, I had a very long talk with some of my EVP people ..."

Aud: "Um-hmm."

AB: "... and there was a special machine made for them that they are playing with and trying to use, that actually allows you to hear live, you know, it uses like a few seconds of delay. And so it actually allows live conversation with the dead, if you will."

Aud: "Is ... is that in reference to the, ah, to those two (2) researchers back in the Seventies (1970s). But they did it live, but they did it through some kind of other ... you know what I'm talkin' about?

You played the tapes before ..."

AB: "Yes. What they did is, sir, they produced, ah, a cacophony of tones that together were, ah, able to be modulated by somebody on the other side. In other words it was kind of an assistance – a way of helping the people on the other side get a message through, providing most of the energy that they only had to then change a little bit to become intelligible."

Aud: "Okay, so they ... what they did was actually live and ... and it's ..."

AB: "That's right."

Aud: "... different ... different technology in reference to the ... basically a loop tape or somethin' that, ah, takes a vacuum.

Okay, I appreciate your time, Mr. Bell.

Thank you."

AB: "You're very welcome.

You refer of course to Sphericon tapes ... the Sphericon tapes. And there are those who as a result of that broadcast – and I knew it was going to happen, and on following up, ah, very closely – built, ah, some of the Sphericon equipment, and they are now experimenting with it, and we will of course have the results for you right here as they come in."

Aud: "One comment I'd like to make – ..."

AB: "Yes?"

Aud: "... and it really worries me – is this Quija board experiment on a mass scale. And, I hate to say it, but I'm almost considering just not even listening. Just because, I don't know, I've got this bad feeling about this. This is like a mass consciousness experiment that could go ... who knows?"

AB: "Umm-kay, well I'm not following it. Um, I ... I'm aware of it, but I'm not ... I haven't been, ah, following it."

Aud: "I just wanted to get that out there. Thanks, Art."

AB: "You're very welcome."

My advice would be not to do it (!)

But, um, you know, ah, George is doing the weekday show and he will do as he will do – and that's as it should be!

Ah, but a Quija board is something that, ah, look:

A Quija board is only ... there's nothing magical about a Quija board. It could be anything – in my opinion, it doesn't matter. A Quija board is just cardboard ... that's all it is.

It's the intent!

And you don't wanta be opening doors!

In other words, you're sitting down with an intent to communicate with something ... you don't know what you're communicating with!

That's the whole problem. That's the reason I'm not doing the consciousness experiments, because I don't know what I'm doing!

And when you go to a Quija board and you're projecting intent to be in contact with who-the-hell-knows what (!) – and I intentionally use that word, because that could very well be the source of what you find yourself connected with (!)

So, there you are!

My advice would be – and my action would be – not to do it.”

2015 08 03    Monday    No Guest    Open Lines – Shadow People Stories

AB: “You know ... all right, let me ... let me go ahead and do this.

You remember the other night we were talking about experiences that we’ve had that we haven’t talked about?

All right, it was about three (3), maybe four (4) weeks ago now, and I ... I thought that this subject had been talked to death – and frankly I think it has [AB takes a deep breath] – except I just had the experience. And I’m talking about what I can only call a ‘Shadow Person.’ So let me tell you what happened to me, okay? And then we’ll get to the phones.

I was sitting in my ‘ham shack.’ That’s the place I’ve got all my ham radio gear and computers and stuff in the house now, separate from my ‘studio’ where I am now. And I had been working at the computer, you know, we talk show hosts do a lot of working at computers, ‘cause we get a lot of email and guests and producers and, ah, everything.

And so I’d been staring at the screen a while ... a while and I mention that because I think it may have something to do with what happened. I, ah, I suddenly saw movement to my right. And I, you know, I just looked over to the right and there was a figure there (!) And I don’t mean just, I don’t know, a figure. It was the shadow of a being ... it was the shadow of something! And it just scared the you-know-what outta me!

And I looked again – it wasn’t there. I looked behind ... I started to look around the room behind me, and there it was! Boom! There it was! And Boom, it was gone!

And I was sitting there in shock and it appeared to the left of me! And I completely lost it, folks.

I ... you know, everybody was asleep in the house, so I’ll tell ya the truth. Um, I went in to where we store firearms and got one (1). And I went through the whole house. (AB laughs). I ... I went through the garage. I went through the yard. I gout out my big five (5) gazillion [sic] candle power light ... started pokin’ around with that. It scared me to death!

So I guess I’ve seen what I don’t know ... what else do ya call it? Shadow Person? I guess.

First time in my life I’ve had this experience. And here’s what I think – and I only just think this: When you spend a long time staring at a computer screen, it begins to change your eyes if not your brain. Haven't you ever noticed that?

That when you spend hours in front of a computer screen, something begins to change in you. It's perhaps subtle. It's tiring, but I think there's a change behind just subtle and tiring.

I don't know what it is. You know, the refresh rate of the, ah, the computer screen, or it may have nothing to do with computers at all. It just may be that these things are here. But what the hell are they?

I mean, you start thinking about it – What Are They? (!)

Are these entities of some kind? Are they ghosts? I mean, another person could have seen this and have said: 'I saw a ghost.' Right, I could have as easily come on tonight and said: 'I saw a ghost.' But you know, through the years having talked about Shadow People, that's what it looked like.

Now, this being had human form or it was something close to human form. If there were arms, they were down by the side. They weren't out. But there were legs.

Just enough to scare the you-know-what right out of ya! It ... and it did that. So, first to the right of me, then behind me which was really freaky. And then ... and then to the left of me. And I was so far out of there so fast ... (AB laughs) ... whatever it's worth.

I don't know what these things are and I doubt anybody actually can document what they are. But now I know ... They Are!

I did, ah, Shadow People many, many years ago. What was it back in the eighties (1980s) ... nineties (1990s)? So, I remember the reports, I remember the drawings, I remember the descriptions, but I sure as heck never expected to see something like that! It was a ... you know, I almost don't want to say human form, but it was close to a human form. That's the only way I can describe it.

It was not solid. You could still see something through it. Maybe that added to the terror of it all ... I don't know.

But it utterly drove me nutty."
